DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-3 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 1-3, the phrase "especially" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation(s) following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim(s) are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim(s) must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Staib et al (US 6,492,644 B1).

Regarding claim 1, Staib discloses an arrangement for inspecting objects, especially masks (i.e. filter grid) (131) in microlithography, that are disposed in a vacuum chamber (101); where converting illuminating radiation (108) emitted from the object (102) into a radiation of a higher wavelength; a sensor (332) provided for recording images (col. 9, lines 25-28). The sensor is disposed outside the vacuum chamber (See Fig. 15 and col. 9, lines 46-63) and an image lens (111c)(120) is arranged as a window in the vacuum chamber (col. 4, lines 58-67 and col. 5, lines 1-4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Staib et al (US 6,492,644 B1) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Cullman et al (US 6,016,185 A).

Staib et al discloses all of the limitations of the parent claim 1, as described above, However, Staib et al are silent with regards to image lens being hybrid lens. Cullman discloses an imaging system for imaging of an object pattern (i.e. microlithography) comprising hybrid lenses (400)(404) having at least one diffractive optical element (col. 6, lines 3-12). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify Staib et al. to use hybrid lenses for the imaging system so as to increase the diffraction limited resolution.

Regarding claim 3, Cullman discloses an array of lens (i.e. combination of diffractive and refractive optics may be used) channels can be embodied in several ways to meet various repetitive properties (i.e. repetitive patterns) (col. 5, lines 54-61, col. 6, lines 13-18 and 33-43).

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
